

STEP ONE: ADVANCED.fst® Certification

The first criteria is to have achieved 90% in TrainCan's management level food safety training program "Advanced.fst®" and keep it active by re-challenging the exam every 5 years and maintaining a 90% G.P.A.

STEP TWO: Train-The-Trainer® Food Safety Training Program

The second criteria is to take an approved Train-The-Trainer program or be approved to be exempt due to your education and related industry work experience. TrainCan® currently recognizes Train-the-Trainer programs from the following sources with approved documentation:

Sysco Canada

Surety Food Safety

ServSafe online

NFSTP

Geometrix Global

Langevin Learning Services - Instructional Techniques for New Instructors: Becoming A Dynamic Trainer

MAPAC (Quebec Agricultural Ministry) - Trainer Designation

We also recognize the following professional designations as not requiring our TrainCan® Train-the-Trainer program:

Public Health Inspector or Equivalent

Teacher (high school, college, university)

Registered Dietitian or Nutritionist

Corporate Trainers in Food Related Organizations (with sufficient supporting documentation as determined by the Course Administration Department)

STEP THREE: DOCUMENT SUBMISSION

The third criteria is to fill out and submit required application forms:

BASICS.fst® Instructor Application Form

Official document and requirements for applying to become a registered BASICS.fst® instructor.

ADVANCED.fst® Instructor Application Form

Official document and requirements for applying to become a registered ADVANCED.fst® instructor.

Joint Examination Protocol

For Instructors and Proctors

Mutual Nondisclosure and Confidentiality Agreement

Required for submission with proctor and instructor applications. It confirms your commitment to not disclose, and keep confidential information related to your examinees.

Please contact Mary Sue Farache, Supervisor Course Administration with any questions.
Ph: 416 447 9588 ext: 275 mfarache@traincan.com.